

Music Makers Academy Diary
August 2017

Please take the time to read this diary there are important dates and changes that affect you.

WELCOME!

- Lucy Harvey will be starting THE MINIATURE MUSIC MAKERS Music sessions for 4yrs and under. Lucy will also be teaching music theatre and vocal training in the Academy

Lucy has a passion for the performing arts and music which started at a young age. This led her academically to study Musical Theatre at Bristol Academy of Performing Arts. She then gained a degree at Dartington College of Arts gaining a 2:1 in Performance/Writing BA (Hons).

Lucy has been playing the saxophone since the age of 11 and has passed her grade 8 Trinity Guildhall Jazz saxophone exam and LCM Music Theatre singing and performance exams both with distinction.

She started working in the entertainments industry at the age of 18 at a holiday park, working her way up to become an entertainments manager with a prestigious UK holiday company.

She spent several years working abroad as a lead singer in various bands and show teams.

Now she tours around the UK with her successful solo vocal and saxophone act, as well as regularly performing with 'Vocal Works Gospel Choir' and the theatre production 'Rock n Roll Back the Years'

Lucy has been teaching pre-school music for the last 3 years and vocal tuition at a secondary school.

- Jane Barnes will be teaching piano keyboard violin and cello

Jane began playing the piano as soon as she could reach the piano stool. Violin followed at five-years-old after finding one under the piano.

Jane went on to lead youth orchestras, winning music competitions before moving to London to study with the late Howard Davis of The Albani String Quartet. She attended the Birmingham Conservatoire gaining a music degree.

Following graduation, Jane toured abroad as a violinist working with orchestras in Spain and the UK. She taught at a specialist school for arts in Spain where she was a teacher of violin and piano. Directing orchestras and ensembles including giving televised performances for Canal Sur TV. A professional musician and a dedicated Violin and Piano teacher specialising in early years, primary and secondary from beginner right through to all advanced levels. All abilities welcome and starting age accepted is five. Tuition can continue through to diploma level.
